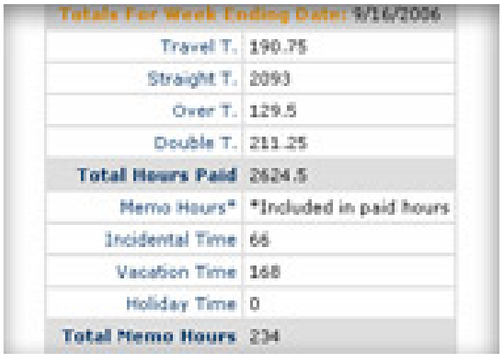
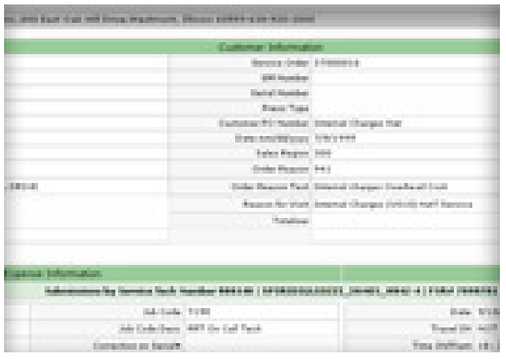
development case study : Man Roland - Time & Expense Management System

Man Roland USA are a leading player in the print industry with over 150 years of printing experience and a workforce of almost 10,000. Man Roland offer their customers total support for the life of their printing press. A promise that is supported by a team of over 500 technicians that cover the whole of the USA.

D4H Creative have developed for Man Roland USA a Time and Expense Management System that allows this team of technicians, via a login, to enter their time and expenses online. The systems then allows for real-time analysis and the creation of bespoke reports. This system has brought extensive benefits including improved business efficiencies cost / time savings within the company payroll department.To learn more contact D4H Creative.





Copyright © 2007 D4H Creative